A work in progress

This was written as a book for the 'Hemingford & Romsey Roads Street Party' in 2012. My thanks to everyone who spoke to me, and to those who invited me into their houses and their lives, especially Jean Turner, Margaret Squires, Brian Thompson, and the Nightingale family. I'm very grateful for help from the staff at Romsey Mill, The Cambridgeshire Collection, to Mike Petty, and to the staff at Cambridgeshire Archives who have only recently archived the early Building Plans and who could not have been more helpful. I am indebted to Hemingford Road resident Soo Martin for turning my photographs of the plans into images everyone can enjoy.

Neither the early Census returns nor the Building Plans were given street numbers. I have hopefully ascribed the correct Census details or Plan to the right house, but I may be wrong. An updated copy of this book will be deposited in The Cambridgeshire Collection.

No 20.22: 1887-1891c

No 16.18: 1901c-1904

No 10.12.14: 1904-1910 LV

Owned by: Ned Pamphilon
(1878 D: 1897 SI)

Despite the date '1901', the 'Terrace' was built over a 20 year period, starting with No 24 & 26 (1881-1884), and concluding with No 14 (1904-1910).

24

'PretoriaTerrace' celebrates British victories during the Boer War in South Africa.

With Fern Cottages it is one of only two group of houses in the road given a distinctive name, and is a reminder that the British Empire was very much a reality for the early residents of Hemingford Road.

The terrace was built on Building Lots 18 & 19 of the 1878 sale by the Johnson family.

Ned Pamphilon, Builder, of 59 Gwydir St, probably bought both Lots in the original sale – he is recorded as owner of Lot 18 in 1878 ( D: Hemingford Ho), and owned both Lots by 1897 (SI). No 14 had been sold to the occupier, John Curtis, by 1910 ( Land Valuation). The other properties remained tenanted until sold by the Pamphilon family in 1935. At that date the tenants were all long standing, and on weekly tenancies:
