Mill Road History Society Street Directory Project

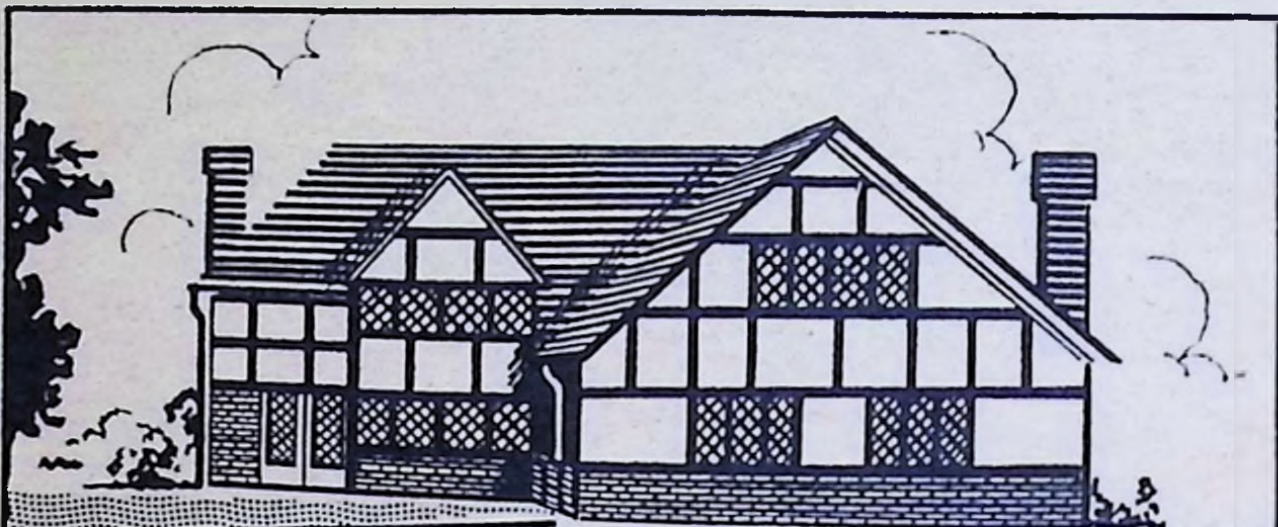

In 2026 the Mill Road History Society started a project to scan the street directories for Cambridgeshire and make them freely available to all. This book is part of that project.

If you find any pages missing or unreadable then please email directories@millroadhistory.org.uk and we will correct the problem if we can.

Scanned with the CZUR ET24 Book Scanner.

80 YEARS of looking forward . . .

When Horace Darwin, son of the eminent biologist, founded Cambridge Instrument Company to make scientific instruments for the University, he could hardly have imagined the present growth of the Company, or the diversity of its products.

Yet the scientists' demands for accurate information have provided the spur for much industrial development, and to-day industry generally accepts that it is better "to know" than "to guess."

During its life, the "Instrument Company" in Cambridge (and its younger brothers in London) have looked ahead continuously, and have consistently shown that the research tool of to-day becomes the industrial commonplace of tomorrow.

The expansion of the Cambridge premises alone added 36,000 square feet of floor space during the two years 1959-1961, and part of one of the two new buildings is shown in our picture. Expansion is now taking place at one of the London factories.

The Company has a world-wide sales organisation, and local offices and service depots throughout Britain.

BUILDING MATERIALS

This list contains only a few of the many items that the Cambridge branch can supply

Travis & Arnold of Cambridge are one of a team of seventeen branches supplying timber and building materials to thousands of buyers throughout the country. Brisk and pleasantly efficient T. & A. are as much at home with the requirements of the householder as they are with the trade-sized orders of the building and structural industries.
