Mill Road History Society Street Directory Project

In 2026 the Mill Road History Society and the Museum of Cambridge started a project to scan the street directories for Cambridgeshire and make them freely available to all. This book is part of that project.

If you find any pages missing or unreadable then please email directories@millroadhistory.org.uk and we will correct the problem if we can.

Scanned with the CZUR ET24 Book Scanner.

PREFACE.

20th September, 1911.

With some hesitation I have complied with the suggestion of many Friends and have brought out the First of a Series of Annual Directories of Cambridge. No pains have been spared to make the Book as correct as possible, and I tender my sincere thanks to all (and they are many) who have given me their assistance by furnishing information and advice. I shall at all times be glad to receive any suggestion for increasing the usefulness of the Directory in the future.

A special word of thanks is due to my Advertisers, and I have every confidence in predicting that their announcements will be even more useful and profitable to themselves than they are to me.

The frontispiece is a plan of the numerous Museums and Laboratories which have so largely increased in number during the past few years, and a coloured map of the Town is also given.

GREATER CAMBRIDGE.

IN November last the Mayor, Aldermen and Burgesses of the Borough of Cambridge made a formal Representation to the Local Government Board, under Section 54 of the Local Government Act of 1888, the object of the Representation being to obtain an alteration and extension of the Boundaries of the Borough, with a view to qualifying Cambridge to become a County Borough.

After a careful and exhaustive enquiry, which lasted from February 1st to February 4th, 1911, inclusive, and which was held before Major C. E. Norton, R.E., the Local Government Board issued a Provisional Order, which was subsequently embodied in a confirming Bill—"The Local Government Board's Provisional Orders Confirmation (No. 10) Act, October 1911." This Bill contained two parts, the first of which applied exclusively to Cambridge, and the second exclusively to Southport.

When the Bill got into Committee in the House of Commons the Licensed Victuallers presented a petition against the measure, in order to secure the insertion of a clause mitigating the hardship which would be inflicted upon the trade if the population of the Borough was brought up to 50,000 or more. The Committee consented to the insertion of the proposed clause, but limited its operation to fifteen years. When the Bill came on for Report and Third Reading in the House of Commons the Government opposed the new clause on the ground that Cambridge ought not to be treated with exceptional favour, and that any provision of the kind proposed should be made, if at all, in the Budget. The Local Government Board went so far as to threaten that if the House accepted the clause which the Committee had inserted the Bill would be dropped. Upon a division being taken the clause was thrown out by 217 to 131. There was no further opposition to the Cambridge part of the Bill, which is now certain to become law—in all probability on April 1st, 1912.

The Order originally proposed that it should come into force on the first of November next, but opposition in the House of Lords to the Southport part of the Bill by two Urban District Councils, prevented the measure being considered in Committee until the Autumn Session, and this necessarily postpones its operation.

When the Act comes into force the Cambridge Town Council will consist of 68 members, who will represent the newly-extended Borough, which will include (in addition to its present eleven Wards) the Urban District of Chesterton, and certain parts of the parishes of Cherryhinton, Trumpington and Grantchester. The part of Chesterton which has been added to the Borough is divided into four Wards (North, South, East and West), as at present, whilst the parts of Grantchester, Trumpington and Cherryhinton which have been added to the south and east of the Borough will form one Ward (Cambridge Without), and each of these Wards will be represented on the Council of the Borough by three Councillors and one Alderman. The Town Council will therefore be constituted as follows:—

15 Town Wards, each electing 3 Councillors	45
1 University Ward, 6 Councillors	6
15 Town Aldermen	15
2 University Aldermen.....	2
	68

The population of the extended Borough will be (approximately) as follows:—

Cambridge	40,028
Chesterton	11,534
Added parts of Cherryhinton, Grantchester and Trumpington, say	4,000
	55,562

The figures for Cambridge and Chesterton are those given as results of the recent (1911) census.

The next step will be towards getting the Town constituted and recognised as a County Borough, and making provision for the future government of the rural parts of the County.

It is satisfactory to notice the great activity which has recently prevailed, and still prevails, in the building trade in and around Cambridge during the past few years, which seems to show that the great educational advantages and delightful surroundings, combined with very moderate rating, is increasing the reputation of Cambridge as a place of residence. But there is another, and perhaps a more powerful reason for the popularity of Cambridge with families who are associated with the University or who are anxious to avail themselves of our exceptional educational advantages, and it is the healthiness of the town. In the Medical Officer's Report, recently issued, he says :— " It is highly satisfactory to note that the death-rate has never been lower, and that the mortality among infants is the lowest on record." The crude death-rate during the past year was only 12.6 per 1,000 of the population. The total amount of rates levied in the Borough for all purposes during the year ending 31st March, 1911, came to 5s. 3d. in the £.

Of our educational advantages it is unnecessary to speak. The great University in many our midst is showing itself quite up-to-date, and evidently determined to meet the demands which are made upon it as the leading educational institution in the world. Our secondary schools, too, are worthy nurseries for the University, and of the commercial careers of their scholars ; and one (the Perse School) is doing such valuable pioneer work that the Board of Education makes it a special grant of £200 a year for the purpose. The Elementary Schools are well managed and are largely Non-Provided, whilst adequate attention is given to the technical training of boys and girls, both whilst at school and afterwards in evening classes, in the School of Arts and Crafts, and in many other ways.

CHESHUNT COLLEGE.

The College was founded in 1768 by Selina, Countess of Huntingdon, to train men for the Ministry of the Protestant Evangelical Churches. It was removed to Cheshunt in 1792 and remained there until 1905, becoming a Divinity School of the University of London. Under a new Scheme of Government drawn up by the Board of Education it migrated to Cambridge, 1905, in order that its students might become members of the University and have the benefit of the University teaching here. Its Governing Body is representative of many interests, and the Students have free choice as to the Churches in which they shall serve after leaving the College. There are at present 21 students in residence.

"A Dainty Display."

A feature of the exhibit which the Chiswick Polish Company have erected at the Crystal Palace is the excellent display of footgear which the company are making to demonstrate the advantage of using their specialities. The various specimens are tastefully arranged in glass cases on either side of the entrance to the "House of Commons." They comprise an extensive collection of hunting, racing, and polo boots, walking boots, and shoes in various styles, and also a smart pair of officer's dress Wellingtons, all of which have been specially made by the well-known firm of FRANK DALTON and Co., of Cambridge and Empire House, Piccadilly, W. Better examples of British Craftmanship it would be impossible to see, and it is clear that no expense has been spared by the company to obtain the very finest goods whereon to display their wares. Messrs. DALTON cater largely for University wearers, and have only departed from their customary methods at the express wish of the proprietors of "Cherry Blossom." Some of the latest additions to the display have been submitted to us for inspection, and it is only doing them justice to say that they embody the finest material and workmanship the most exacting wearer could desire. The Chiswick Polish Company have shown even more than their customary enterprise in obtaining for the purpose of their display at the Festival of Empire footgear of such a distinctive character."
