In 2026 the Mill Road History Society and the Museum of Cambridge started a project to scan the street directories for Cambridgeshire and make them freely available to all. This book is part of that project.

If you find any pages missing or unreadable then please email directories@millroadhistory.org.uk and we will correct the problem if we can.

PREFACE.

September, 1914.

When the Street and General Directory was issued last year it was confidently hoped that the Town of Cambridge was upon the eve of becoming a County Borough. Unhappily an unexpected whip-up of some 50-odd Irish Members in the House of Commons defeated the eminently just proposals of the Local Government Board, and our ancient Borough, with its greatly enlarged area, must continue, for the present, to work as a subordinate authority.

There is good reason to hope that the County Council will treat the Borough with fairness, and it will be the desire of all good citizens to keep the work of local government as free from friction as possible.

Amongst what it is hoped may be considered the improvements in the present issue of the Directory are a good many additions to the official and general information, a corrected map and a carefully revised and somewhat extended list of Private Residents and of Resident Members of the University.

The Publisher tenders his thanks to the many who have assisted in the compilation of the present Volume by furnishing information, and especially would he thank those who by becoming Subscribers for a series of three Volumes or by inserting advertisements have done so much to encourage a somewhat difficult work to be done thoroughly.

CHESHUNT COLLEGE.

The College was founded in 1768 by Selina, Countess of Huntingdon, to train men for the Ministry of the Protestant Evangelical Churches. It was removed to Cheshunt in 1792 and remained there until 1905, becoming a Divinity School of the University of London. Under a new Scheme of Government drawn up by the Board of Education it migrated to Cambridge, 1905, in order that its students might become members of the University and have the benefit of the University teaching here. Its Governing Body is representative of many interests, and the Students have free choice as to the Churches in which they shall serve after leaving the College. There are at present 21 students in residence.

New Collegiate Buildings are in course of erection at the Brookside end of Bateman Street. The foundation stone was laid by the Lord Chancellor in June, 1913.
